Researcher
Part-Time Contractor

Do Cool Work That Matters!

The Rep Project is looking for the best and the brightest to join our team. As a leading gender justice global non-profit, we fight sexism through films, education, research, and activism. Join us in this important work as a contractor on media research projects.

Position Overview

Our research team performs the highest quality analysis of media content and other analytics. The Researcher contract position is ideal for a strong quantitative thinker who is highly organized and able to complete tasks independently and under deadline. This position reports to the Research and Data Impact Manager.

Primary Responsibilities

- Performing coding on different forms of media content (films, television, advertisements, video games, etc.) as assigned by the Research and Data Impact Manager.
- Completing training and reliability tests for each project.
- Producing completed coding frames with few errors in a timely fashion.
- Attend weekly Research Team meetings for training and work assignments.
- Communicate issues with the codebook or other coding concerns as soon as they arise to the Research and Data Impact Manager.

You are a strong candidate if you have:

- A bachelor's degree or higher in any discipline.
- Training, education, or experience in media representations.
- A strong commitment to challenging intersectional gender stereotypes and norms
- A deep understanding of the gender hierarchy and intersections with race, class, age, sexual orientation, ability, body size, and circumstance.
- Solid quantitative literacy skills.
- Proficiency in Excel and Google Docs.
- Strong communication and interpersonal skills: ability to communicate effectively with staff and manage working relationships diplomatically.
- Ability to work successfully and effectively, both independently and as part of a team, in a diverse and participatory environment.
- Previous research training or experience is preferred but not required.

The Researcher position is part-time (5 - 30 hours a week) on a contract (per project) basis. This is a fully remote position that requires access to a personal laptop. The hourly rate for this position depends upon education level (bachelor's degree, master's degree, Ph.D.).

HOW TO APPLY

Please send a cover letter and resume to joinus@therepproject.org with the job title as your subject line. We will follow up with you directly for the next steps in the recruiting process, as appropriate. Thank you again for your interest in our mission. We value your support and passion!

The Representation Project is committed to cultivating an inclusive workplace and environment. We welcome all candidates regardless of ethnicity, race, color, religion, gender, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, national origin, disability, or age. We are an equal opportunity employer and are firmly committed to complying with all federal, state, and local equal employment opportunity ("EEO") laws.
